

"Your Bridge from Club To College Soccer"

(San Ramon, California)- iSoccerPath, the premier education and evaluation company for families of prospective college soccer student athletes, is honored to announce it has been approved to work with and offer its college ed programs to the ODP pool players in the Kentucky Youth Soccer Assn (KYSA). iSoccerPath will be working with KYSA ODP Director Adrian Parrish in offering all ODP pool players in the KYSA an opportunity to become student athletes and receive college admissions through not only their work in the classrooms but their soccer playing abilities.

"This alliance with the KYSA ODP players and their parents is an exciting one for all of us here at iSoccerPath. Working this program and proposal out over the past month or two with Head Coach Adrian Parrish, I was very impressed with his vision and passion to offer the ODP players in Kentucky an added value and opportunity to help make their college dreams come true." said iSoccerPath Director Jeff Jaye. " We also look forward to hosting their first KYSA ODP College Coaches Panels for all ODP players later this Spring and bringing top college coaches to speak directly with the players and parents. We are honored to be working with Coach Parrish, his staff and the KYSA."

To learn more about iSoccerPath visit their website at www.isoccerpath.com

To learn more about KYSA ODP visit their website at <http://www.kysoccer.net/programs/odp/>